While we may not have a ll the answers to this question, the Bible does give us some things we c a n know, such as:

- God is n o t the C r e a t o r of evil and suffering
(Gen 1:31; Ezek 28:15; Isa 14:12-14)

- Evil came as the result of the s e l f i s h n e s s of m a n
(Gen 3:1-21; 6:5)
 - M o r a l evil: caused by the actions of f r e e m o r a l agents - i.e. human beings (crime, murder, cruelty, wars, etc. (Rom 3:23)
 - N a t u r a l evil: events that occur as the result of the n a t u r a l r e a l m - nature - earthquakes, tornadoes, hurricanes, tsunamis, etc (Gen 3:17-19; Rom 8:19-22)

- We live in a f a l l e n w o r l d (John 16:33; Gal 3:22)

- God can bring g o o d out of b a d
(Gen 50:19-21; Rom 8:28; 2 Pet 3:9)

- God will ultimately judge evil
(Ps 9:7-8; 98:9; Acts 17:31; Matt 11:20-24; Rev 14:7)

- Our present suffering is nothing compared to what God has prepared for His followers
(Rom 8:18; Rev 21:4-5)

The Theological explanation for suffering and pain is revealed by:

- The tree in the Garden (Gen 2:16-17; Rom 5:12)
- The tree on Calvary (Gal 3:10-14; Col 2:13-15)
- The tree of Life (Rev 22:2, 13-14; Gen 2:9)
