

A Radical Savior: A Radical Faith
Called to a Radical Obedience
Matthew 10:1-39 (page 681)

Sunday, March 17, 2013

Frank Mascaro

Jesus reminds us that there will be risks to follow Him
(Matt 10:1-25; 2 Tim 3:12; John 15:18-21; Rom 8:16)

Our security is to be found in the sovereign control of God, not in the temporal comforts of the world
(Matt 10:26-31; 2 Cor 12:7-10)

When our death is viewed as a reward, we will be set free to live a radical faith
(Matt 10:32-39; Phil 1:21; Rev 12:10-12)

Getting down to the heart of the matter...

Do I believe that the reward of following Jesus is worth the risk of radically following Him now? _____

---

---

---

Do I fear God more than I fear others or do I fear others more than I fear God? How does that affect my attitude toward following
Jesus? _____

---

---

---

Am I willing to have Jesus alter my view of Christianity from one of passive response to His words to radical obedience to His words? Why or why not? _____

---

---

---